

Please, gentlemen, take a moment to think of us as citizens rather than consumers. I don't want my computer to become another pay-per-view system. I want my computer to remain mine. Implementing a broadcast flag to control the way we use content we've purchased is good for business, but it doesn't seem to be good for you and me.

Please, rethink this.